

ENG 101
Lesson - 42
Dr.Surriya Shaffi Mir

1. The Base Form: is the form in which verbs are listed in the dictionary. It is used for the present tense for all subject except third - person singular subjects.

- I eat kababs for lunch.
- Saima eats kababs for lunch.

2. Past Tense Form. The past-tense form of most verbs is formed by adding -ed or -d to the basic form.

- They praised the president for his bold speech.
- I asked the students to leave the gym.

3. Present Participle: is the -ing form of a verb. The present participle is the form that is used with the helping verbs am, is, are, was, or were to show continuing action.

- Jo is spreading the sheet on the ground.

As I was gathering the clothes on the line, the wind blew away some of them. 4. Past Participle. The past participle of a verb is usually the same as its past tense form. The past participle is the form that is used with the helping verbs have, has, and had and with am, is, are, was, were.

- The girl have asked the boss for a raise.
- The kitchen door was jammed tight.

Here are the main parts of the regular verbs.

Basic Form	Past Tense Form	Present Participle	Past Participle
Jump	jumped	jumping	jumped
smile	smiled	smiling	smiled
hope	hoped	hoping	hoped

Main Tenses: There are six main tenses in English. They are present, past, future, present perfect, past perfect and future perfect.

The following chart shows the six basic tenses of the verb 'jump'

Tense	Example
Present	I jump
Past	I jumped
Future	I will jump
Present perfect	I have jumped
Past perfect	I had jumped
Future perfect	I will have jumped

We shall now look at these tenses in greater detail.

1. The Present Tense:

(i) is used to describe an action that is happening in the present or to describe a condition that exists at the present time regardless of the other verbs in the sentence.-

Susan works in children's toys on the third floor. (habitual action).- The neighbor's dog smells our plants.

(present action)

iii) The Historical Present: The present tense is used to make more vivid the description of some past action through a restatement or a summarization of the facts from a book or a report etc... . - In his report Mr. Farook states that the president will call candidates for interview in a year's time.

- "Revenge", says the Lord, "is mine". (Bible)

The historical present is used when we write about events or happenings in a work of literature. The rationale for using the present tense is that the the happenings of literature are unchangeable and therefore are permanently true.

2. The Past Tense : is used to describe an action or state of being that occurred sometime in the past. -At yesterday's party, the host made a rude remark.- The goods were delivered late last night.

3. The Future Tense (i) is used to indicate an action which is to take place in the future or a state or condition that will exist some time in the future. - According to the college schedule the examination will be held in the Basement

at 9:00. a.m.

- If you are to succeed, you will need to set realistic goals.

(ii) You can form the future tense by placing will or shall before the verb. In the past the use of will and shall was prescribed. But in today's language usage, will is typically used to express ordinary future tense and shall is used to express a demand or is used with laws, policies or contracts.-You shall have this term paper submitted on time.- Invigilators shall ensure that the examination rules are fully implemented.- If you meet the deadline, you will reap _ the benefits.

The Three Perfect Tenses are formed by adding the helping verb have, has, or had to the past participle of the verb. The past participle of a regular verb is simply the form that ends in -ed.4. The Present Perfect Tense is used to describe an action that started in the past and either has been finished or is continuing at the present time.

The present perfect tense is formed when we add has or have plus the past participle.

- Marina has worked at a number of jobs over the year.

- After great efforts by the police, the building has been evacuated.

5. The Past Perfect Tense:

describes an action that was completed in the past before another past action. The past perfect tense is formed when we add had plus the past participle. Marina had worked in a number of TV programs before she joined the company. Before I reached my office, my friend Lylla had returned my call.

6. Future Perfect Tense:

describes an action that will be completed before sometime in the future. The future perfect tense is formed when we add shall have or will have to the past participle. By the end of the year, the contractors will have completed the new block.- Mr. Saeed will have been employed by the printing firm for 25 years in December.- Our secretary shall have entered all data for your report by Saturday.

The Three Progressive Tenses. As their name suggests, these tenses express actions still in progress at a particular time. They are made by adding a form of the helping verb -be to the -ing form of the verb.

Present Progressive Tense:

expresses an action taking place at this moment or that will occur sometime in the future.

- Marina is working at the office today.

- I am going to the bookstore.

2. Past Progressive Tense :

expresses an action that was in progress at a certain time in the past.

- Marina was working yesterday.
- I was practicing my speech last night.

3. Future Progressive Tense:

expresses an action that will be in progressive at a certain time in the future.

- Marina will be working tomorrow.
- The visitors will be pacing in the reception hall.

Unnecessary shift in tense.

- In my dream, a snake slithered along the side of my bed and slips quickly onto my pillow. (inconsistent tense)

Practice 1.

Spot the wrong tense word.

When my sister saw flames and smoke coming from her room, she reacted quickly. She picks up her handbag and some pictures of her family. Then she rushed out into the open.

2. Pink flowers blossom on this peach tree every spring. Then tiny green buds appeared. Finally, the peaches grow into sweet red fruit.

Practice 2:

Spot the tense shifts.

In his oversized T-shirt, the little boy looked even smaller than he was. His skinny arms stretch out of the flopping sleeves that reach down to his wrists. He needed a haircut; he has to push his hair out of his eyes to see. His eyes fail to meet those of the people passing by as he asked them, 'Can you give me five rupees'?

Practice 3.

Spot the verb in each sentence that is not in the same tense as the others.

1. Hafeez rang the doorbell and wanted for several minutes. Finally, when no one answers, he turned away disappointed.
2. As the campers drove away, they look back and saw their dog running after them.
3. He came home early because he wasn't feeling well: then he discovers his wife had the door key.
4. Our children love going to the school library because they can take out any book they wanted, even if they can't read it yet.
